TRY WITH CONFIDENCE

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

In order to help parents try the high quality music classes offered by the Len Tyler Music School there is a "try with confidence" system that allows for initial money paid to be refunded if things don't work out. This is available to all children that join the Len Tyler Music School from January 2011. The following conditions apply.

1. Available from January 2010.
2. Available to children new to the music school only.
3. Parents are required to pay for the term or the remaining lessons of the term.
4. In the event that the child wishes to withdraw after attending three lessons then we will refund all money – no quibbles.
5. If the child attends just one or two classes you will be required to pay for those classes and the standard administration charge.
6. In the event that a child is withdrawn later in the term we will refund the remaining lessons on request.

We hope that this will enable parents to try our high quality and child friendly lessons without feeling financially trapped thereby enabling them to make a more informed about music lessons in the long term. We hope that this approach will help more children to receive the benefits of this approach to music teaching.
